Modified Tariff Bill of the Upper Branch Is Passed Without Opposition.

ANY BILL BETTER THAN NO BILL

After Swallowing the Senatorial Dish of Fricasseed Raven, the Members of 1 cent. of the House Hold a Farcical Session and Pass Bilis Indicating Their Desire for Radical Tariff Changes Which Are Impossible Under Senate Schedule.

Washington, Aug. 14, 6 o'clock tonight the senate tariff bili unchanged, unamended, untouched, was passed by the scuse, and the measure now waits on y the signature of the presiuent or his tailure to sign it within ten days, to be enacted into a law. It was passed according to the programme arranged yesterday and rati-fied at a canons of Democrats this morning. The cancus met at 10 o'clock and adjourned at noon with the understanding that the senate bill and separate measures, placing coal, sugar, iron ore and barbed wire on the free list should be put through the house be-fore adjournment, but an unexpected obstacle was encountered in the ab-sence from Washington of Mr. Outhwaite, of Oulo, a Democratic member of the committee on rules, whose presence was necessary to enable the committee to bring in a special order for carrying out the caucus arrangements. Outhwaite, who was absent on ac count of illness in his family, appeared however, at 2 o'clock, and a few minutes later the committee on rules reported the special order and the house entered on one of the greatest days in its history. The special rule was agreed to after a short debate.

A VOTE IS TAKEN.

Then the senate bill was debated for two bours, and after counter accusations by the Republicans and Democrats and severe arraignments of the 181 to 105. A number of Democrats B. F. Stuck, of Tower City. voted against the bill, while the Pon ulists supported the majority. There was much applause when the troublesome measure was finally out of the way. Then the separate bills placing coal, iron ore, barbed wire and sugar on the free list, were taken up in the order named and passed, after debate of half an bour on each, and what was probably the biggest day in the history of the house; from the standpoint of work accomplished, came to an end. The ballots upon the various bills passed were: Free coal-Year, 160; nays, 104 Free iron ore-Yeas, 163 nave, 102 Free barbed wire-Yeas 167; nays, 84. Free sugar-Yeas, 276; At 10.25 the house adjourned until

SUICIDE MANIA.

People of Bradford and Vicinity Are Tired of Life

BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 13 -Bradford and vicinity is just now having a sea-son of the suicide epidemic. Last Monday, Hezel Kirk, a Newell avenue Magdalene, took enough morphine to kill a horse. A clever physician and a stomach pump brought her back to life. On Tuesday, Mrs. George Fisher, of Washington street, thought that her husband did not love her, and shot herself in the breast. She is now hovering between life and death.

At Mount Jewett, on Saturday, James Donovan, cross d in love, took to drink and then the Keely cure. After a short season of sobriety, drink followed, and he took landanum and killed himself. Yesterday at Mount Jewett, Mrs. Augustus Neistrom, aged 25, who has been nursing grief for some time, became despondent and in a fit of temporary aberration shot herself in the heart with a revolver, from which she expired.

Exciting Session of the Pittston Council Terminates in a Tangle.

WELCOMED

Several Thousand Curious Taxpayers Throng the Council Chamber and Saturnalia of Gag Law and Rump Greatly to the Occasion's Picturesqueness - Failure of an Attempt to Go Into a Star Chamber Session.

> Special to the Scranton Tribune. Pittston, Aug. 13.

OT in forty years has there been in this borough such an exciting meeting of the borough fathers III as took place at the town hall here tonight. The spectacle presented at the little brick structure which does duty as Pittston's modest municipal building before the council met tonight was one which recalled the thrilling episodes of war times, when citizens were wont to gather to hear the latest intelligence from the seat of carnage; but it was with a different purpose that three-fourths the male population of Pittston this evening poured itself out into the street, the alley way, and the vacant spaces surrounding the council chamber, after it had filled all the available room inside. The throng came, not to learn of bloodshed and auguish nor to revel in the details of human slaughter, but to welcome back the famous Junketeers, to great and salute and perchange to grasp the hems of the garments of the celebrated men who had, without the loss of a hair, circumnavigated the paved thoroughfares of America's foremost cities, and survived the material seductions of lozens of expert promoters. There was a deal of expectancy in he air when Chairman John J. Mangan rapped the council to order. The routine proceedings out of the way, Councilman Donnelly pulled an elaborately rolled document from his pocket, cast an appealing giance at the chair and rose to deliver nimself of the to make himself heard, but regarding his lung power as inadequate to quell the growing tumult, yielded long enough to have a motion made that the council chamber be cleared of all persons save members and reporters.

THE FUN BEGINS. Chairman Mangan no sooner put the question than there was a storm of in-"noes." One of those who voted in the negative was Hotel Keeper T. F. Ferguson, who stood near Chief of Police Loftus Chief Loftus objected to Mr. Ferguson having a vote in the matter and when the latter en-deavored to defend his right, as a citizan, to protest against the ejection of taxpayers from a place of public as-semblage, the chief selzed him vigorously and proceeded to escort him down stairs.

Instantly bedlam broke loose. The spectators made a rush for the exit, there were cries of "fight!" and a liberal number of oaths, and for a time it looked as if a riot would result. Mr. Ferguson, it seems, after he had been busiled into the corridor leading to the lock-up, managed to convince the chief others. of police that he had done nothing to deserve summary commitment, and he was soon released. Meanwhile the excitement was so great upstairs that Councilman Donnelly's report gressed no further toward a reading Before he could resume, Mr. Ferguson made his way back into the council chamber and once more insisted upon his right to be present at any consider ation of the question of paving reform, involving as it did the disbursement of large sums of public moneys.

Blakely. Harry Metters was elected president, Alfred Haines, vice president; Ed-mund L. Thomas, secretary, and C. M. Hathaway, treasurer. About 200 voters were enrolled. John R. Jones, Dr. William E Lloyd and William Mason were appointed delegates, and C. M. Hathaway, D. C. Phillips and J. L. Knapp alternates to the meeting of the Republican State league at Harrisburg Sept. 5.

John R. Jones esq. moved the adop tion of a resolution instructing the State league delegates to vote for Major Everett Warren for president of the league and pronouncing Major Warren as a stalwart, who as president of the State league, would reflect great credit on the Republican party of the state and county.

Rev. J. R. Ellis moved the adoption of the following resolution, which was carried unanimously with cheers and music by the band.

Whereas, John R. Jones, our esteemed townsmau, will be a candidate for the nomination of district attorney of Lackaways been kind and charitable to the op-pressed and poor. He is fitted for the of-fice by fourteen years of experience as a lawyer. He has frequently represented our district in county and state conven-tions with ability and faithfulness. He has been of invaluable service to the Republican party, and we believe that this nomination is due to him. His character for integrity and honest dealing with his fellowmen is beyond question, and we believe that if he receives the nomination for district attorney he will be elected by an overwhelming majority. The valley between Carbondale and Scranton, casting a very large Republican vote, has never been represented on the county ticket, and we appeal to the leaders of the Republican party and the Republicans throughout the county of Lackawanna to give us represent-ation upon the ticket by placing thereon the name of John R. SCENES ON THE OLD BATTLEFIELD

The Location Conceded to Be the Most Unfavorable of Any Ever Visited by the Guard-Poor Water and Miserable Transportation Facilities. The Thirteenth Regiment Inspected. Excellent Showing Made - Programme for Today - Interesting Notes of the Camp.

successfully passed the ordeal of inspection, making a splendid showing. The rain continued to descend until 11 o'clock this morning and a little later the sun broke through the clouds rapidly drying the muddy camp grounds. By evening they were in comparatively good condition. At 3 o'clock p. m. the Thirteenth regiment was called on the field for inspection and marched to their position with the precision of veterans Colonel McKibben, inspector general, assisted by Major Patterson, inspector of the brigade and others, conducted the in-spection. Governor Pattison, General nowden, General Gobin, Adjutant General Greenland and Captain Rogers, of the regular army, were among those who witnessed the inspection. They all expressed their admiration for the work of the boys. Tonight Company B was to have held an elec-tion to fill the vacancy caused by the death of First Lieutenant H. R. Madison. It was postponed until Aug 22 Adjutant Millar had been enlisted to accept the position, but has declined. The Second brigate was inspected today, and the Thirteenth, Twelfth, Fourth and Ninth regiments of the Third. The Eighth regiment of the Third will be inspected at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning A number of Second brigade soldiers made a raid on the shop of a dispenser of relics at Round Top this afternoon and cleaned chair and rose to deliver nimself of the Junketeers' formal report. The curiosity of the multitude had by this time reached such a state of high pressure that there was obvious confinion in the ball. Mr. Donnelly strove advancement of our people, He has always been kind and charitable to the one of the confinion commander. Major C. C. Mattes, of the Thirteenth, was brigade officer of the

When taps sounded tonight the members of the Thirteenth retired to their tents thankful that the ordeal of inspection was over. Camp Crawford is a most interesting place to visit, but thus far there has been no great rush of people to see the soldier boys. The absence of ladies is particularly notice able and is regretfully commented by he sons of mose, for whom a pair of flashing feminine eyes have always a wonderfully invigorating effect. Gettysburg the young ladies will not deign to give the suspicion of a smile to any one below the rank of captain, and it is, therefor, not wonderful that they are voted intolerably slow by the great mass of the boys, The camp is laid out in the form of a hollow square. The central space is quarter of a mile long and equally as wide and is used as a division parade

As the camp is approached from the town of Gettysburg the quarters of the artillery and cavalry is first discerned. They are close to the historic bloody angle and surrounded by monuments erected to commemorate the brave deeds of those wno fell during the fighting on that field. The cavalry consists of the City troop, of Philadelphia; the Governor's troop, of Harrisburg; the Sheridan troop, of Tyrone; and Troop F, of the Seventh cavalry of the regulary army stationed at Fort Myers, Va. Of the artillery Batteries A, of Philadelphia; B, of Pittsburg, and C, of Phenixville belong to the National guard and Battery C to the regular army with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

CAPTAIN ROGERS PLEASED. Captain Alexander Rogers, of the Fourth United States cavalry, is at General Snowden's headquarters to make official report of the inspections for the benefit of the army and navy lepartment. After the inspection today Captain Rogers said to THE TRIBUNE representative that he was much pleased with the soldierly bearing and actions of the members of the guard and the spirit with which they obeyed the or ders given them.

It is generally conceded that while Gettysburg is unsurpassed in historical interest and surroundings calculated to impress devotion to duty on the minds of the citizen soldiers, it is no sense a good place for a division ening 'the place are poor, there is in no stream of water convenient to the camp and the soil could not be worse, being intensely muddy or intensely dusty, just as Old Prob wills it. There is no happy medium about the "sacred and blood-badewed soil of Gettysburg. Adjutant Millar is of the opinion at a much worse place could not be cured, and Major Gerst, of General ademning the place for camp pur-

Time does not hang heavily, for every man in the camp is provided with enough to do to keep him employed during a good portion of the day. There are plenty of jokers among the boys in the tents, and they exert themselves to amuse their more serious companions. Guard mount is one of the interest is then that the orderlies are selected, and there is always great rivairy among the boys for the positions. The higher title the person to be served pos sesses, the greater the honor. When the detail of guards from the com-panies is given out, some member of each company generally announces that he "will try for orderly." That is enough to excite the pride of the organization and willing hands promptly go to work to make him "look pretty." His clothes are carefully brushed, his
